Dear Lyda,

Fantastic!! We are very excited about Nathalie Miebach's LEF Foundation award and our association with her amazing work on visualizing climate change. Already a very accomplished artist, Nathalie's new work involving collecting her own weather/climate data and creating a sculpture to illustrate that data will be one of the first of its kind. Her work will be featured in our science education programs and of incredible value to the science, education, and artistic communities.

Other than the valuable financial support which you are providing, this award is a huge boost of moral support to continue our science and art education endeavors.

Thank you thank you

Sincerely,

Zach
