

The Graduate Interdisciplinary
Water: Systems, Science, & Society
Program Presents

DR. PAUL
EPSTEIN

Associate Director, Center for Health and the Global Environment at Harvard Medical School, and an author of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change (IPCC) assessments

CLIMATE INSTABILITY: Health Problems and Healthy Solutions

Friday, October 17, 2008
4:00–5:30 PM
Barnum 008,
Medford Campus

WSSS is a cross-university certificate program that trains students in interdisciplinary management of water resources while they complete the graduate degree requirements in their home departments.

